

Armed Forces Working Group

We have a number of staff who come to us from the military or who are reservists.

For some, this might be their first job role since leaving the Forces. The group meets to support each other in life outside of the armed forces, employment, health and social care, mental health, housing, and much more. Regular updates are posted via a community webpage and directory.

